we are not stupid if we use simple methods he suggested that “stupid” referred to the interaction between the way things break and the sophistication at hand

An Insurance Policy

The Tandem method may not produce the most profitable trades but it acts in some ways like an insurance policy as it relies on a triple confirmation

The Number 3 is significant in Technical Analysis. It is prominent in many methods and styles, notably Dow Theory.

The Tandem Method uses 3 actions to register a signal:

the trend line must be broken and the price must move above or beneath the crossover of 2 moving averages

The Crossover Technique

Using the crossing of two simple Moving Averages we take advantage of the “golden” and “dead” crosses to signal or confirm buy and sell signals
